Chinook Salmon (Alaska and Oregon state fish) are native to the north Pacific Ocean and rivers from California to Alaska, as well as Asian rivers from northern Japan to Siberia. They have been introduced elsewhere, e.g., New Zealand (the world's largest producer of King Salmon) and the Great Lakes. The flesh is highly valued for its nutritional content, which has high levels of omega-3 fatty acids. The Chinook is blue-green, red, or purple on the back and top of the head, with silvery sides and white ventral areas and black spots on the tail and upper half of the body. Adults average 24 to 36 inches and 10 to 50 lbs., but could reach 58 inches and 130 lbs.! Chinook may spend 1 to 8 years in the ocean before returning to their home rivers to spawn. Some return to fresh water a few years earlier than others, and are referred to as smaller "jack" salmon. Chinook salmon were enthusiastically eaten by the Lewis and Clark Expedition, which Lewis said tasted better than any other fish he had ever eaten! Chinook also are wet, warm coastal winds in the Pacific Northwest.

Top Ten Goodwill Gestures

The Goodwill Committee at the 2008 Fall NABC in Boston suggested some of the small ways you can do your part to make the tournament a pleasant experience for all our players. Good luck at the bridge table!

1. Greet and welcome opponents.
2. Always say, "Director, please."
3. Lead or place dummy before you write.
4. Mentor a new player.
5. Say, "Thank you, partner."
6. Complement opponent's play.
7. Discuss hands after the game.
8. Accept defeat and victory with grace.
9. Leave a tidy table.
10. Smile often!
